Judges Comments:

A reasonable number of male goats entered and present.

Ashdene Actor, an impressive Anglo Nubian shown in lovely condition, was an easy winner. He is full of quality and a fine example of the AN Breed.

Reserve went to a smart pure Saanen male, Philday Fella. Again, of true breed standard and in good condition.

Judges Comments:

Very well run show and a pleasure to get back amongst goat keepers. Excellent facilities at the Royal Norfolk Showground.

Some beautiful stock on show with impressive milk yields. I was particularly taken by the two Ashdene British Toggenburg milkers. Both shown in lovely condition and both having superb udders. Ashdene Meadowqueen was third in the IP line up. She is a tremendous BS milker with an impressive morning yield of 4.35kgs but beaten on udder confirmation by her two stablemates.

Best goatling, Ashdene Allspice, is an elegant Anglo Nubian full of quality and Anjo Cylvia a well grown British Toggenburg was reserve. Best female kid went to a smart British Alpine, Monach Blackberi, with Monach Billberi, an Anglo Nubian, reserve.

The show took place on the same day as King Charles III was crowned and was in itself a right royal success!
