Judge's Comments:

Alresford is a very traditional local agricultural show that is very committed to having livestock, including dairy goats, at the show. It is such a shame that there are three shows in the region on the same day competing for entries.

My best in show, Ashdene Clarissa, is full of quality. Her style, elegance and 3.1kg morning yield made her an easy choice for best in show. Her stablemate and my reserve, Ashdene Meadowbright shows much promise. A very young goat, she has plenty of dairyness and a beautifully shaped and attached udder.

While Ashdene Campari was best goatling by virtue of her being the only goatling at the show, she is very deserving of the award. She has the size, range and bone of a typical British Toggenburg.

In the kid classes, the British Saanen, Ashdene Matilda, won over the British Toggenburg, Ashdene Custard, on her elegance and flow.

Credit also must go to Ashdene Maidwell, who produced 3.5kgs at morning milking.

Thanks to Jane Barker for continuing to keep the goat section running despite such modest entries.
